EXECUTIVE SUMMARY: Suicide remains a persistent, and yet largely preventable, cause of death and continues to be affect too many individuals, families and communities in Clackamas County. September is Suicide Prevention Awareness Month and with that comes an opportunity to increase education and awareness around the prevalence of suicide and, more importantly, the intentional work being done within the Public Health Division to decrease rates.

This session is informational only, no action required and no fiscal impact

RECOMMENDATION: The staff respectfully requests the Board's continued support of this important work.

Respectfully submitted,

Mary Rumbaugh

Mental Health Promotion and Suicide Prevention Program

- What we do:

- Promote mental health literacy and work to prevent suicide
- Provide free suicide prevention trainings
- Provide technical support and consultation around policy and system change
- Distribute secure storage items such as pistol vaults and medication lock boxes
- Mobilize resources and supports following a death by suicide in the community

- How we do it:

- Collaboration with local, regional, and state partners
- Change systems to reduce stigma and shift community norms around mental health

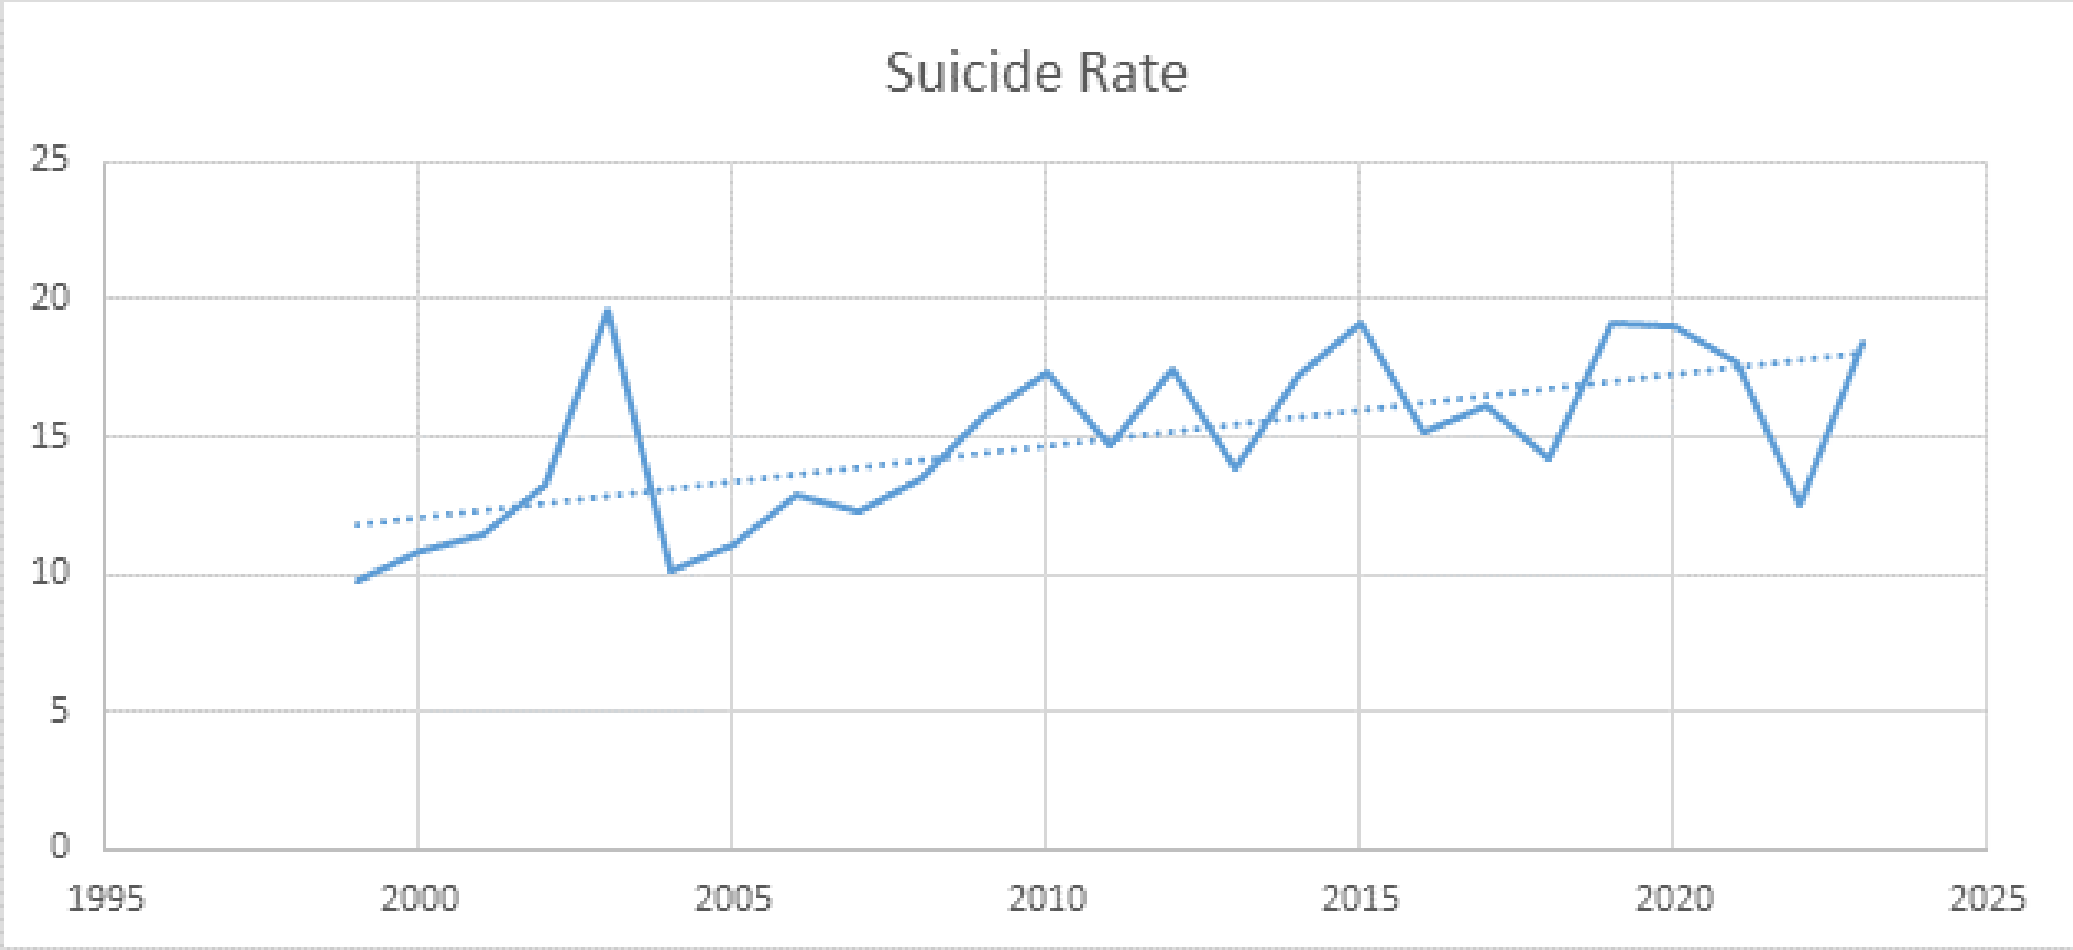

Mental Health Promotion and Suicide Prevention Program

- Why we do it:

- In 2023, 57% of all the suicides in Clackamas County were individuals 50 years and older
- Men make up most of the suicide deaths in Clackamas
- In 2023, 61.5% of suicides were via firearm

“This story ... speaks to the real impact of staff training and the gun cases we provide. A year ago, right after my staff training, I met with a client experiencing suicidal ideation. I offered her a biometric gun safe, and she said, “Yes, please—I’ve always worried I could get into the other case [key locked pistol vault] if I wanted to.” Months later she confirmed she was using it. Recently, during another visit, she again disclosed suicidal thoughts and shared that she had considered using a gun—but couldn’t access it because of the biometric safe. She received intervention and is doing well today. What I thought was a one-time success has now become both a part 1 and a part 2 of this story—and I’m so thankful.” – Public Health Nurse Home Visiting Case Manager
